ADA, OKLAHOMA, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 24, 1920

FIVE CENTS THE COPY

Big Circulation Campaign Closed Yesterday at 7:30

Official and complete returns from all precincts voting indicate that Miss Pauline Harris has won the highest prize in the gifts of the News Publishing company, a brand new Essex car, by a majority of 1,701,950 over Mrs. Jessie Helm, the nearest competing candidate, who received 9,476,800 votes and a round trip ticket to any of the principal cities in California and $100 in cash for expenses.

Returns also indicate that Miss Eva Sparks was elected to represent the third place with 3,211,700 votes and received the beautiful Chippendale model Edison which was donated by the Ada News company. Mrs. Reit Sturdivant will receive the fourth prize of $100 in gold, having received 1,859,250 votes; fifth place was won by Mrs. O. F. Johnston of Allen, who was given the expensive set of cut glass, donated by the American Glass Casket company, for the 1,528,850 votes received; sixth place was won by Mrs. Joe Beck of Stonewall, with 73,100 votes, and she received the 15-jewel solid gold wrist watch, donated by A. D. Coon; Mrs. L. A. Trudeau won the Eastman kodak, the seventh prize, donated by Hensler & Story, having received 551,850 votes; the eighth prize, a luxurious fountain pen, was won by Miss Florence Honeycutt who received 470,500 votes.

The following ladies were paid a commission for the good work done, not having attained any of the prizes offered: Miss Julia Walker, 453,550 votes; Mrs. C. V. Dunn, 358,050 votes; Miss Clara Rayburn, 320,050 votes; Miss Beatrice Craig, 300,400 votes; Miss Bertha May Murdoch, 246,150 votes; Miss Kathleen Love, 190,300 votes; Miss Inez Neal, 158,850 votes; Miss Edith Martin, Roff, 72,200 votes; and Enid Holloway, 72,200 votes.

Several surprises were in store for the large crowd of eager voters who had assembled at the Security State bank at 8 o'clock last evening to get the returns. Early reports which had been published in the Evening News indicated that the vote tabulated up to the close of the second period of the contest showed Mrs. Jessie W. Helm leading in the race for the grand prize with Miss Sparks a close second and Miss Harris a close third. While these three candidates maintained the lead throughout the contest it soon became apparent that Miss Sparks had failed to carry all sections of the erstwhile solid south, and that the other two leading candidates were engaged in a very close race and were dividing almost equally most of the ballots from the heavy voting sections of the north, east and west.

A. 9:37 p. m., just as the final vote was announced, there was a mutual exchange of congratulations among the candidates, several of whom were present. All were jolly and each appeared to be well pleased with the results of the campaign through which they had labored so ardently and consistently during the past seven weeks.

The failure of the various candidates to attain the grand prize for which all aspired was rendered less disagreeable by the fact that each contestant who worked hard received a reward that more than repaid them for their efforts.

The election judges were: Bill Coffman, M. R. Chilcutt, Wayne Waddington, Rev. Clyde Calhoun Morris, Dr. A. Linscheid, and Ben Scheinberg, all of whom had been chosen because of their unimpeachable integrity and honesty, to count the ballots and money and make a record of the result of the closing days of the campaign.

During the first four weeks of the campaign the returns were checked up and publicly announced in the Evening News each day, but since that time no information had been given out. Since Tuesday of this week no one had known what was being done, not even Mrs. W. J. Kirkpatrick, the manager of the campaign, for during the last three days of the campaign the contestants have deposited their daily reports in a padlocked ballot box which was kept at the Security State bank for that purpose. No one knew what the box contained until it was opened and checked up last evening by the judges.

These judges had a very hard job, which, at times, called for expert judgment and advice, and caused them to undergo a nervous strain that was occasionally productive of feelings of most tender sympathy on the part of the spectators. Trouble started for the judges when Ben Scheinberg ripped open the first envelope and dumped several pieces of green paper on the desk. Each paper was about the size of a one dollar bill, and all were engraved around the edges very much the same as paper money, but on the corners of each was stamped the figures 100.00, instead of the 1.00, 2.00 and 5.00, that distinguishes the relative values of United States currency.

With the sheepish grin of a man who has been made the victim of a practical joke in public Ben started to shove the apparently worthless paper into the waste basket, when Wayne Waddington checked him with, "Hold on there Ben, that's bonded stuff, see the government stamp on it? Why that might be worth something to somebody."

"Looks like money," quoth Ben.

CLOUDY CHRISTMAS PREDICTED

Temperature Will Be About 30 Degrees Above Says Weather Man.

The minimum temperature here was 14 degrees above zero, registered at 7 o'clock this morning. Fair and warmer weather for the state is forecast for tonight with Christmas day partly cloudy. Temperature tonight will range from 20 degrees in the north part of the state to 30 in the southern section.

Good Natured Henry Gave People Another Good Show

Henry Roquemore, fat, good-natured Henry Roquemore, and his popular Henry Roquemore's Musical Comedy company, playing the holiday week at the McSwain theater, gave us another good show last night. Miss Fern Emmett, the pretty little lady with personality to spare, gave a most excellent portrayal of a "giddy giddy girl." Right here we might say this young lady is one of the most versatile we have seen in musical comedy—she plays a wide range of parts in the different offerings of this company, and is as much at home in one as the other. She possesses a beautiful singing voice which she uses to rare advantage. And we must not overlook the pretty chorus. Henry sure picks some good looking, in fact, they are a collection of pretty girls as has been seen here in many moons.

A big Christmas offering is promised by this excellent company tomorrow, playing matinee and night.

Look Out for Thieves and Robbers Says Okla. City Mayor

(By the Associated Press.) OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 24.—A general warning was sounded today by Mayor Walton for all citizens to be on the watch for burglars and thieves during the holidays. It was announced that every available policeman has been placed on duty and special protection will be afforded where it is deemed necessary.

BANDITS ESCAPE WITH $4,200 AT ST. LOUIS TODAY

(By the Associated Press.) ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 24.—The Nelson Manufacturing company was robbed today of four thousand two hundred dollars in cash which was being held by that company to meet its weekly pay roll. The robbery occurred in the heart of the business section and the bandits made their escape in a crowd of Christmas shoppers.

Just a Few Kind Words From Appreciative Friends of the Ada News

Wishing to learn what readers of the daily and weekly News thought of the big Christmas editions of the Weekly News December 16, and the Evening News December 20th, a News representative called on several persons recently and asked that they make a statement of their opinions.

It is real gratifying to be able to print such statements as the following which are representative of the encouraging comment of all persons approached on the subject.

The News will continue its policy of keeping abreast of the times, and expects to conduct the papers in such a manner as to merit the continued support of the progressive business institutions which have been its chief asset during the past year.

John McKinley, workman at the cement plant, said:

I came to Ada in 1900, when there was but one house in what is now the main part of the city of Ada and have lived here continuously since that time. The Christmas edition of the Evening News of December 20th was far the best and most attractive paper that has been printed in the city during all

LAST DAY FOR DUNLAP STORE

May Be Closed Permanently; May Re-open After First of Year.

The Dunlap Brothers store in this city will be closed tonight and probably will not be opened to the public again. This, however, will be decided after an invoice has been taken and the managers have talked the matter over. The Dunlap Brothers have twenty merchandise stores over the state which they are closing out and many of them will be closed permanently tonight. Whether the store here will be one of them is not definitely known yet. Most of the stock of goods here has been sold and the remainder of the stock may be shipped to a stock room at some other place, or the store may be sold and the business reopened until it is sold out.

The store employs a staff of clerks who have made many friends here and the store, on its good merits and methods of doing business, has gained many customers. The next week will be spent in inventorying and announcement will be made next week as to the intention of the owners of whether the store will be closed permanently or reopened until the stock is more completely sold out.

Fair tonight; warmer Saturday, partly cloudy; warmer.

STATE SOLENS TO WALK IN MUD

Money Gives Out Before State Capitol Grounds Are Completed.

(By the Associated Press.) OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 23.—Slightly less than half of the improvements now being made on the court and driveways surrounding the state capitol will be completed when legislators and visitors arrive January 4 for the convening of the Eighth Oklahoma legislature. It will not be due to delays in construction or lack of materials, officials of the state board of affairs declare, but to the consumption of the entire appropriation made to cover these improvements.

From a fund of $200,000 appropriated by the Seventh legislature for state capitol grounds improvements, which was to include paving, laying out of courts, planting of white way pedestals around the drives and generally beautifying the site, but $53,000 was available for these purposes. An item not considered in the appropriation two years ago, is responsible, according to the board.

A forty-three-acre tract of land directly south of the capitol site was purchased for $147,000, which it was declared, was considered necessary to the state house grounds in order to insure its permanent distinction. This purpose practically drained the appropriations, and from the sum left the improvements that could be made have reached the limit, says the board member.

The circle driveway at the entrance to the capitol from the north side has been completed, and half of the circle drive on the east side was finished before existing finances were consumed. The work of excavating the tract on the south and west sides of the building has practically been completed although the curbing work cannot be finished until more money is made available.

The laying of electric light cable to furnish electricity for the white way pedestals that are to be installed around the drives of the capitol building has been practically completed. These poles, board officials state, will be placed at intervals throughout the capitol area. Grasses and shrubbery have been planted on the plot of ground on the south side of the building.

George W. Clark, chairman of the state board, said that had it not been for convict labor used in making improvements, the headway that has been made would not have been approached from the funds left available for the purpose. Convicts from the state penitentiary have been employed on the work ever since excavating was started. Thousands of yards of earth have been removed from the elevated portions of the grounds by the use of tractor and teams and deposited on the lower side of the site.

Asked for an opinion as to the probable cost of a dome for the capitol building, it was estimated that $500,000 would be needed to erect this remaining piece of architecture, which will make the building complete. At that time, however, locomotives were able to approach and circle the building and cranes were in place to hoist heavy materials to the top of the structure. It would be necessary to install this equipment again if a dome were to be erected, not considering the fact that the grounds have been surveyed, planted and outlined and the circle drives placed under construction.

Before the work can be completed another appropriation will be necessary, Mr. Clark said.

Now if the shipping board can blame the inefficiency to British meddling, something will have been accomplished.—Oklahoman

Postoffice Doing Big Business This Year Same as Last

The Ada postoffice department is doing a good business this Christmas as is evidenced by the large piles of bundles, letters, packages and other articles of mail matter. It is believed that the mail is as heavy this year as it was last.

The mail carriers over the city, and the mail clerks are all rushed with the big amount of mail coming in and going out. It is expected that it will be several days until after the holidays before things reach a normal stage.

MISTRIAL IN ARNSTEIN CASE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—The jury in the case of Julius W. (Nicky) Arnstein and others, reported to Judge Gould in the district supreme court today that it was unable to agree on a verdict, after nineteen hours, justice Gould discharged the jury and announced a mistrial.

We Thank You.
J. C. Cates has the thanks of the entire News force for remembering the men with a box of fine cigars and the ladies with a nice box of candy, which were tendered as Christmas tokens Thursday.

SANTA CLAUS HERE TONIGHT

Will Bring Joy and Gladness to Boys, Girls, Men and Women.

Tonight is the night when old Santa Claus will visit the city, bringing beautiful gifts to all the little boys and girls, and leaving behind him the joy and cheer which the times call for.

All the final preparations have been made and the kiddies will not have to wait much longer to see how the old man has remembered them. Tonight, while they are all slumbering and dreaming of him, he will make his secret visit and then depart without anyone being the wiser.

Tomorrow will be the scene of joy and gladness. The merry shouts of the children will be heard to echo and re-echo. New gifts and toys will hold their attention during the day and many days following.

Then, too, the older people will come in for a share of the fun. There will be beautiful gifts, remembrances of old friendship, and renewing of thoughts of younger days. Christmas comes only once a year and it will not be lacking in spirit in Ada.

Needy Remembered At Christmas Time By Ada Citizens

Santa Claus had his headquarters at the Red Cross office in Ada today and it was from that headquarters he started out on his annual visit to the needy people of Ada and vicinity. He was well supplied with necessities for the needy and sweets for the kiddies.

The different charitable organizations of Ada have been busy for some time preparing for their Christmas dispensations of cheer. The Elks Lodge of Ada and the United Charities of Ada and the United Charities of Ada have been very diligent and assisted by many generous citizens they collected a liberal quantity of gifts for the most unfortunate of the people.

The Elks sent out thirty Christmas dinners this afternoon. Each box sent out by this order contained the following:

Ten lbs. flour, ten lbs. meal, fifty cents sugar, one lb. coffee, one qt. cranberries, one pkg. salt, one pkg. soda, one pkg. baking powder, one lb. crackers, one can tomatoes, one can corn, one pkg. coconut, one hen, five lbs. roast, one cabbage, one doz. apples, one doz. oranges, one-half doz. lemons, five lbs. lard, one lb. butter, one pk. spuds, one pk. potatoes, one can milk.

From the headquarters of the Red Cross and United Charities Mrs. Snead sent out 156 well filled stockings to as many little ones of the city. Each stocking was filled with those things that most delight a kiddie at the Christmas-tide—such as candy, apples, oranges and walnuts. Quite a supply of clothing donated by many citizens was also delivered to those who need clothing most.

The pupils of the Hays school sent to headquarters this morning a fine donation of canned fruits. This had been donated by the different pupils and collected by at the school. The pupils of the high school have made a collection of gifts and will make their own distribution this evening.

Hardware Store Is Entered and Robbed of Guns and Cutlery

Robbers entered the Haynes Hardware store Monday night, taking several guns of different sizes, much ammunition, a large quantity of cutlery and other hardware articles. No trace of the thief has been found and the value of the goods is not definitely known as many things were taken which were not missed until later.

Among the guns taken were a few high powered rifles and shot guns. Knives, razors, small arms and other like articles were the first missed.

LIKE PRODUCES LIKE.—Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting. ADMITTING THE STRANGER.

In looking through a late copy of the Congressional Record we find a speech on the immigration question delivered by a congressman from Oklahoma. He tells of visiting Ellis Island some months ago and seeing thousands of immigrants entering the United States. He was very much exercised over what he saw for two general reasons; none of the immigrants seemed to have as much as $50 in money; practically all of them were going to our crowded cities and almost none of them were going to the farm.

We question the soundness of our Oklahoma congressman's argument. This nation has not been developed by immigrants of wealth. Rather it has been built up by immigrants who came here almost penniless. A man who has managed to accumulate a little money overseas is not likely to come to the United States; he is very satisfied with conditions in Europe. It is the man without capital who is tempted to leave Europe and look for better things in America. If a monied foreigner comes to America, the chances are that he is coming to make more money and not to become a permanent citizen. The poor man who comes here to become a permanent citizen and to better his financial condition is more likely to prove a desirable man than the man who comes with plenty of money just to make some more money and then return to Europe.

The congressman from Oklahoma is again on doubtful ground when he says that immigrants should go to the farm. It is true enough that we have crowded cities nowadays, but what is to be gained by crowding our farms? It is evident that if these people stop in the city, they will increase the number of consumers and therefore increase the demand for the farmer's products. On the other hand if they locate on the farm, it is evident they will increase farm products and consequently lower the price of farm products. It seems to us as if the congressman from Oklahoma is arguing against the interests of his own district when he says that all these foreigners should go to the farm.

The truth of the matter is we have little need for millions of foreign immigrants either in the city or one the farm. The termination of all immigration is very much to be desired. But if a continuation of immigration is to be permitted, the basis of admission should be changed. The amount of money in the immigrant's pocket is not the best test. Far better it would be to require him to present a certificate of health and moral character and a record free from any violation of the laws of his country.

Forty-seven counties in Texas have thus far failed to send in the returns of the election held November 2. But plans for the inauguration of the officers elected at said election go merrily on. We presume that if every county in the Lone Star state should fail to send in its returns, the officers would be inaugurated and the wheels of state government would continue to revolve.

Equal rights for women has not had an extended try-out yet, but it has already worked wonders. Just look what it has done to Jake Hamon.

Why Be Discouraged? Did You Know That—

As Renault lay dying he said to his doctor: "I am dying earlier than I should because all of my life I have eaten far more than was good for me." "Yes," replied the physician, "one-third of the average man's food keeps him alive, and he eventually dies of the two-thirds that he ought not to have eaten."

"It isn't water that I drink, or what I eat or what I go without eating that will make my name known some day," said Newton. "It is the proper training of mind in determination and concentration that will develop me if I am ever developed." That was before Newton discovered the laws of gravity.

IN SOCIETY

The little cares that fretted me,
I lost them yesterday
Among the fields above the seas,
Among the winds at play;
Among the lowing of the herds,
The rustling of the trees,
Among the singing of the birds,
The humming of the bees.

The foolish fears of what might happen—
I cast them all away
Among the clover-scented grass,
Among the new mown hay;
Among the husking of the corn,
Where drowsy poppies nod,
Where ill thoughts die and good are born.
Out in the fields with God,
—Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

The Boy Scouts

The scout authorities were successful yesterday in getting the entire high school band to join the organization here. They will form a troop of their own which will be known as the Band Troop. This is a great step in the progress of scouting in the city and it is expected to have many more of like occurrences in the next few months. Boys in the band who belong to other troops will be permitted to remain in them and no transfers on this account will be made.

All scouts are urged to get their friends to join now. If they wait until the first of the year, the fees will be raised and it cost more to belong. All boys who are intending to join should do so now as the extra fee for next year can be saved by their doing so.

Don't Overlook These Two Big Days

BIG CIRCULATION CAMPAIGN CLOSED

 "but it can't be, they don't make 'em that big."
 Coffman, who had been examining one of the papers carefully, picked up the others and said he'd just put 'em in his pocket to get 'em out of the way, and ordered another envelope, torn open, but at this juncture Dr. Linscheid said that he had once read in the Britannica of one hundred dollar bills and was of the opinion that such things did actually exist. W. M. Pegg was called in for a consultation and dug up a book that contained a picture of a one hundred dollar bill, and upon comparing the specimens with it they were found to be identical. Chilcutt laughed at the other members of the board, stating that he had known that they were hundred dollar bills all the time, and added that he "had owned as big as a three hundred dollar bill."
 After a time the judges got so used to the big bills that they would regard with utter and undisguised contempt anything less than a $50. Along toward the last, after several thousand dollars had passed through their hands Dr. Morris got to feeling so prosperous that he took out his check book, wrote a check for five hundred dollars payable to bearer, and touching a corner of the check to the gas fire lighted his cigar with it.

JUST A FEW KIND WORDS

 A. W. Pollock, of the firm of A. P. Brown & Co., said:
 The Christmas edition of the Evening News, December 20th, was a wonderful production. I came from a town that is one hundred years old, while has two daily papers that are considered real live papers in my state but neither of them is up to the standard maintained by the Evening News. Not only was the Christmas edition a great success but the paper each day is far above the average. The editorials written by Luther Harrison are the best written in the state of Oklahoma. Don't fail to call on us for the next Christmas edition.

C. A. Giffin, manager of the land department for the Doan Oil company said:
 I have trafeled in most of the states and read the papers everywhere I go. I have never seen a paper from any city the size of Ada that was more attractive, or showed more ingenuity in the art of arranging and printing display ads than the big Christmas edition of the Ada Evening News December 20. Such a paper should be, and evidently is, judging from the liberal patronage accorded, a source of pride to the business men and other citizens of Ada.

C. P. Penrose, manager of the Ada music store said:
 The Christmas edition was a big success easily the best and most attractive paper that has been published in the city since I have come here. The News never does things by halves, and we are proud of the paper that represents us so well to our patrons.

HOT, DIZZY FEELING

Atlanta Lady's Uncomfortable and Annoying Condition Relieved, She Says, by Cardui.

Atlanta, Ga.—Miss Alice Frances Young, of 28 East Alexander Street, this city, says: "After entering womanhood, I suffered so much with womanly weakness. My back ached. I would have, at certain times, a hot feeling that seemed to go to my head. Even my shoulders would hurt, and it made me very dizzy and uncomfortable. When the blood would flow to my head—I suppose that was what it was—I would faint and feel so weak. "I couldn't do my work. I had a good position, and this was surely annoying as well as embarrassing. I would usually have to go home and go to bed. I certainly suffered greatly. "I heard of Cardui, and my mother bought it for me. It was the first and only medicine that ever did me any good for this trouble."
 Dizziness, headache, sideache, backache, tired-out feeling and other disagreeable symptoms are often signs of womanly troubles. Thousands of women who formerly suffered from these and similar ailments have found Cardui a very valuable remedy.
 Cardui is composed only of pure, vegetable ingredients which have long been recognized as of medicinal value in the treatment of many diseases and disorders peculiar to women.
 Take Cardui.

One Hot Meal a Day.

(By the Associated Press.)
 VINITA, Dec. 23.—Mrs. Harry Wammack, county superintendent of public instruction, has appealed to all teachers in Craig county's rural schools to prepare at least one hot meal a day for their pupils, to supplement the cold lunches brought to school by the children. The teachers are urged to install devices which will augment the service of hot foods. Many instructors in the county have already agreed to co-operate with the superintendent in the movement. A hot dish at the noon hour will prepare a pupil to withstand the physical as well as mental strain of school work, Mrs. Wammack said. Domestic science and balanced rations will also be studied in the county schools.

Fire Losses Small.

MIAMI, Dec. 23.—The total fire loss in Miami from December 1, 1910, to December 1, 1920, was $7,081,730, according to a report made by the fire department. The number of fires reported in the year numbered 62 and the per capita loss for the city was 95 cents.

At the McSwain.
 It is a happy coincidence that Thomas Meighan, whose love for children is well known out in the California movie colony, should have been chosen to play the hero in "The Prince Chap." William De Mille's notable screen production of Edward Peple's famous play of the same name. It will be the photoplay attraction at the McSwain theater today.
 The heroine Claudia in "The Prince Chap" first appears as a child of four years. This role is charmingly enacted by pretty Peaches Jackson. Claudia at the age of eight is interpreted by May Giracci, a little dusky beauty from Italy. And Claudia, budding into glorious womanhood, finds an attractive counterpart on the screen in Lila Lee.
 "I never had a better time," laughed Mr. Meighan recently, "and I never got along with a leading woman so well as I did with my three in "The Prince Chap." The story is laid in the London artists' colony and is said to strike a deeply human note unusual in photoplays.

At the American.
 Tom Mix is coming to town again—this time in a rip-roaring, two-act, swift-moving love story that tops all others of the same class. It is "Desert Love," which William Fox will present on Saturday at the American theater. Those who have seen the picture describe it as a "skyrocket of action," sweeping without pause to a finale of hair-raising quality.
 If the "daredevil of the screen" proves true to his record—and there can be small doubt as to this —then there is a treat in store for the big audiences that crowd the theater whenever Mix appears. The fascination of danger is no better illustrated than in the character of this daring cowboy-actor, who stops at nothing to secure blood-stirring effects.

Mix is seconded by a cast of superior ability, including Francella Billington, Eva Novak, Lester Cueno, Charles K. French and Jack Curtis. The direction is by Jacques Jaccard.

OKLAHOMA WILL GAIN CONGRESSMAN

(By the Associated Press.)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 23.—Since Oklahoma will gain one new member to congress as a result of the census report for 1920, interest is acute in political circles of the state as to what procedure will be taken as the result of the census at Washington of republican members of congress who agreed to pass a bill reapportioning membership in the house of representatives to correspond with the census. The announcement, political leaders say, involves the redistricting of the state by the coming legislature or a statewide campaign for congress.

Counties in the state must be rearranged into nine congressional districts, should the bill be passed and become a law before the forthcoming session of the legislature adjourns, political authorities declare with a republican house and a democratic senate they predict that such a course would involve a long controversy between the two houses before a final and equitable settlement could be reached.

On the other hand, if the bill does not become a law before the assembly adjourns, the entire state would have an opportunity to vote for the new congressman and the campaign would take on the aspects of a senatorial election. Both democratic and republican leaders expressed confidence that in the latter course the election of a congressman-at-large would give both parties a chance to display their strength.

First Christian Church.
 A fine Bible school will meet Sunday morning at 9:45. Our Bible school is in a good condition. We are looking for a large attendance Sunday. Come and be one of us. "A class, a smile, and a welcome to all. Come and see."
 Morning worship will begin at 11:00. A Christmas message will be delivered by the minister. There will be Christmas music. Everyone is cordially welcome to this service.

The Junior Missionary Society will meet in the afternoon at 3:00. The Christian Endeavor Society will meet at 6:30. "A purpose meeting" will be the topic. Miss Vivian Simmons will lead the meeting. There ought to be a large attendance at this meeting. All young people are invited.
 In the evening, the minister will deliver a New Year message. The evening worship will begin at 7:30. Sunday, Mr. Dunn will close his two-year ministry with the church here, excepting that he expects to hold the regular meetings during next week, the junior "L. of J." the teacher training class, the meeting of young converts, and the prayer meeting. As Sunday will be his last opportunity to preach to the people of Ada, he extends a special invitation to all the church members and to their friends and his friends to be present. And if he has any enemies he invites them, too. He hopes for large crowds Sunday.

Wrong Charging Will Ruin a Battery
 "Many a good storage battery has been literally boiled to death by garage men having little respect for the rules of charging," declared Wm. Emanuel of the Overland U.S. service station representative for this district, who discussed batteries with a representative of this paper yesterday.
 "Conditions are gradually bettering themselves, however," he continued, "and garage men are waking up to the fact that a battery should not be charged in series with batteries several times larger. The service station, having come by more experience, sticks by the set rule of the game and seldom, if ever, is guilty of battery boiling. Excessive charging or violent discharging of battery kept up for a considerable period will overheat it and if continued will manifest itself in injured plates. Machine-pasted plates, the latest in battery construction, will stand this strain longer than the hand-pasted brand, but must succumb to such drastic attacks in time unless the motorist corrects his habits.

 "Abnormal charging or discharging of a battery, also will cause unnecessary buckling of its plates if persisted in. One way of causing excessive discharging is for one to run his automobile on the electric starter instead of the engine. On the other hand, with reference to overcharging, there is no excuse for cranking one's battery with a thirty-ampere charge when its proper rate is but twelve amperes.
 "Buckled plates are saucer-shaped, so that the old-fashioned sharp-cornered, hand-pasted plates were injurious to the separators. The modern machine-pasted plate has obviated this, being round cornered."

PRESBYTERIANS HERE SPREADING JOY ELSEWHERE
 "Santa Claus don't come our way With them toys of his. He's forgot the place we stay; Don't know where orphan's is I wish some angel in the sky Would tell him, please don't Pass us by."

Thinking perhaps the above appeal might be an unspoken prayer of some boys and girls, whose lives have been void of the little fire-side chat so dear to all wee ones at this season of joy and cheer, and no loving mother arms to draw them close, or fathers willing ear to listen to the merry chatter about Santa and the much desired toys, it was the desire of one who loves all his little ones to spread joy to the hearts of some or many of his loving ones.

 This thought grew into suggestion and in a twinkling of an eye the flame of enthusiasm spread until it became one immense blaze of determination on the part of the First Presbyterian church of Ada as a whole, to share their Christmas joys with others.
 There are many worthy homes in the state but just a short time ago the Reynolds Presbyterian orphanage of Albany, Texas, the nearest Presbyterian orphanage, burned and left that large family of 113 orphans and ten faithful grownups without one of life's comforts or necessities—hence this home was selected and the church and Sunday school responded with outstretched hands and open pocketbooks, and the names and ages of the children were furnished each one.
 The result is beyond human power of description. On Wednesday night, December 15, a full church gathered and the name of every girl and boy was called and well filled stockings was the answer. Only four of that large number failed to respond and they were sent later.

 On looking at the faces of those laden with stockings as they answered roll call you could read blessings in abundance, and a Christmas joy and gladness that could not be taken from them. On Thursday the boxes, filled with stockings, love, joy and Christmas cheer, were sealed, tied securely and addressed to the Reynolds Presbyterian orphanage and sent on their way to gladden the hearts and whisper words of encouragement and love to one of his families.

Good Values Always

'Altho' Prices are very Low here

No better proof that the values offered here are better than any other store in Ada or East Central Oklahoma, than to watch the crowds who have visited our store this "holiday season."

WHEN business in most places was practically at a standstill, this store has been unusually busy—not as busy quite as olden days—considering the conditions of the times: but the way our stocks have dwindled the past thirty days surely tells the tale.

WE are more than grateful for the confidence our patrons have placed in us.

ANNOUNCEMENT

This store will be closed after Friday, December 24th until further notice. Our closing Out Sale has been a tremendous success and only the general slump in conditions has kept us from selling everything.

It will take us at least a week to invoice and see just how much merchandise is left at all our stores and to decide what disposition will be made of these stocks.

See next week's paper as to what will be done with our Ada Store.
